

TimeLiner™ Resources

<http://www.timeliner.com>

Resources from Tom Snyder, the creator of TimeLiner™. This site includes free time lines you can download. Examples of time lines are The Rise and Fall of Rome, Canada since 1600, History of Computers, and Space Flight. This site also includes links to find clip art and to research time lines.

<http://www.tomsnyder.com/products/product.asp?SKU=TIMV50>

Free 45 day trial of TimeLiner™. "Order and try any product published by Tom Snyder Productions FREE for 45 days! No P.O. required! We'll send you the software of your choice to review FREE for 45 days (Internet services are available for a free 30-day trial). At the end of that time, keep the products and pay the invoice, or send them back—you simply pay the return postage. It's truly risk-free!"

<http://www.tomsnyder.com/enews/online/>

Tom Snyder's e-newsletter. Get the month's free time line and other news. Subscribe to receive the newsletter by e-mail.

http://www.educationworld.com/a_lesson/lesson044.shtml

Lesson plans using time lines.

<http://coekate.murraystate.edu/kate/month/november/timeliner/default.htm>

Links to WebQuests that integrate TimeLiner™.

<http://www2.canisius.edu/~emeryg/time.html>

A collection of time lines on the web.

http://www.ebrschools.org/n.edtech/timeliner_viewlet_swf.html

A viewlet illustrating how to use TimeLiner.